Waco, a great cotton center, situated in the work of building this road to Waco is completed this company contemplates building a branch road from Mt. Pleasant to Dalias, thereby tapping the heart of north Texas, which will give us almost a direct line from Texarkana to Dallas, making the distance nearly fifty miles shorter from Texarkana to Dallas, than over the Texas and Pacific by J. fferson and Marshall. The Houston and Texas Central have about 600 miles of railtenance by agriculture or pastoral pursuits, and to begin and follow up the practice of introducing among them habits and occupations of civilized life on the ground they inhabits and occupations of civilized life on the ground they inhabits and occupations of civilized life on the ground they inhabits and occupations of civilized life on the ground they inhabits and occupation. The International and Great Northern have about 550 miles of railroad in operahabited. In view of the fact, also, that the have about 550 miles of railroad in opera habited. In view of the fact, also, that the maintenance of the system of large reservations against the pressure of white immigration and settlement would, in the course of time, become impracticable, a different policy has been followed, having for its object the settlement of Indians upon lands in severalty, and dispose for their benefit the lands not required for this purpose and gradually to prepare the way for their final incorporation into a body politic as in. ncorporation into a body politic as in-dependent and self-relying men invested with all the rights which other inhabitants of The trade of Texas with St. Louis, in all lines of the many advantages and benefits that would flow to them and your sections of country by the construction of this important rade of Texas with St. Louis, in all fines of pushiness, in the aggregate will amount to over $30,000,000 annually. This trade has been induced through the extraordinary efforts to regain her lost Texas trade, with a fair show of success. She has one railway from Houston, Texas, to New Orleans, with a forts of St. Louis business men. Ten years ago the commercial talkence of St. Louis was but little felt in Texas. The construction of the Iron Mountain and Memphis, Kansas and Texas railroads, however, has had a wonderful effect of late years in increasing the trade relations between Texas and this great western emporium, and now this business aggregates millions. Eyr instance, Texas products passing Texarkana north by the Iron Mountain railroad from Lord Texas to be operated in the interest of Memphis and the railways from the east centering at this place? them valuable. Andisi is described as an Italian, of good appearance, about forty years of age, with baild head, black eyes and mustache, dressed in broad-cloth, wears a soft, black hat, wearing a gold band with hieroglyphics on his finger, and speaking English with a strong foreign accent. He is very smart. Mr. Ottenheimer supposes that the first telegram that he received, the one dated Memuhis was sent by Andisi in the chamber of deputies regarding Baudry d'Asson's letter asking that the chamber be requested to sanction proceedings, under arself, for the purpose of causing delay and giving him time to make himself scarce. MONTPELIER, December 1.—The electors of this State cast the unanimous vote of five for Garfield and Arthur for President and Vice-President of the United States.

Andisi is well known to the secret service department, and is, it is said, wanted in St. Louis for crookedness there within the past two years. He was a member of the secret service department some years ago, but was dismissed for swindling the government. The rules under which the department is operated provide that the members of the force, when traveling on government business, shall obtain their mileage and traveling expenses for the United States.

London, December 1.—The council of judges have resolved, by a large majority, to recommend the abolition of the chief sarony and the chief justiceship of common pleas.
